New director to join GASPOOL's management board

Berlin, 11 December 2017. The shareholders of GASPOOL Balancing Services GmbH have appointed Dr Sebastian Kemper as company managing director effective 1 January 2018. The 37-year-old lawyer, currently head of Legal/Regulatory Affairs & Public Relations at GASPOOL, joins current managing director Jörg Ehmke, who has been managing GASPOOL since 2014 and will continue in his position, at the helm of the company. In his new position Mr Kemper will head the Market Area Management department in addition to continuing to oversee his current areas of responsibility.

“The importance of the market area manager's role and especially of the operational aspects of its business, which include the registration and administration of balancing groups, the physical balancing of the market area and the running of the virtual trading point, has grown enormously over the years. Given this background and the pending merger of the two remaining German market areas we think it's sensible to have a two-people board manage the GASPOOL business. We are delighted that Sebastian Kemper, who is an experienced manager and has contributed greatly to shaping GASPOOL's development over the past years, has agreed to accept this responsible task”, says Ralph Bahke, director of Leipzig-based ONTRAS Gastransport, in a statement issued on behalf of all GASPOOL shareholders.
